

Table of Contents

Foreword by Andrew M. Leeds, PH.D.

Foreword to the Spanish Edition

Part One. Theoretical Foundation

| | |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----|
| Introduction. The Borderline Personality Disorder Challenge | 3 |
| 1. Trauma, Attachment, and Biology at the Origin of Borderline Personality Disorder | 7 |
| 2. EMDR Therapy | 21 |
| 3. Dissociation and Borderline Personality Disorder | 29 |
| 4. BPD from the Theory of Structural Dissociation of the Personality | 39 |

Part Two. Phases 1 and 2 in the Treatment with EMDR: Conceptualization and Preparation

| | |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| 5. Understanding Borderline Personality Disorder from EMDR Therapy | 57 |
| 6. Defenses | 75 |
| 7. Identity, Differentiation of Self and the Development of Mental Functions | 99 |
| 8. Installing Healthy Self-Care Patterns in Borderline Personality Disorder | 117 |
| 9. Working with Self-Injuries and Suicidal Ideation | 139 |
| 10. Emotional Regulation | 157 |
| 11. Psychoeducation | 171 |

Part Three. Phases 3 to 8 in the Treatment with EMDR: Working with Adverse Life Experiences

| | |
|-------------------------|-----|
| 12. Core Beliefs | 179 |
| 13. Trauma Processing | 193 |
| 14. Specific Procedures | 203 |

Part Four. Borderline Personality Disorder in the Interpersonal Context

| | |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| 15. The Family of the Borderline Personality Disorder Client | 219 |
| 16. Borderline Personality Disorder and Couples: Complexity Squared | 237 |
| 17. The Therapeutic Relationship | 253 |
| 18. Maintaining Improvement | 267 |

References 271

About the authors 291